

Our funding process

Your group submits your application for funding to Mama Cash.

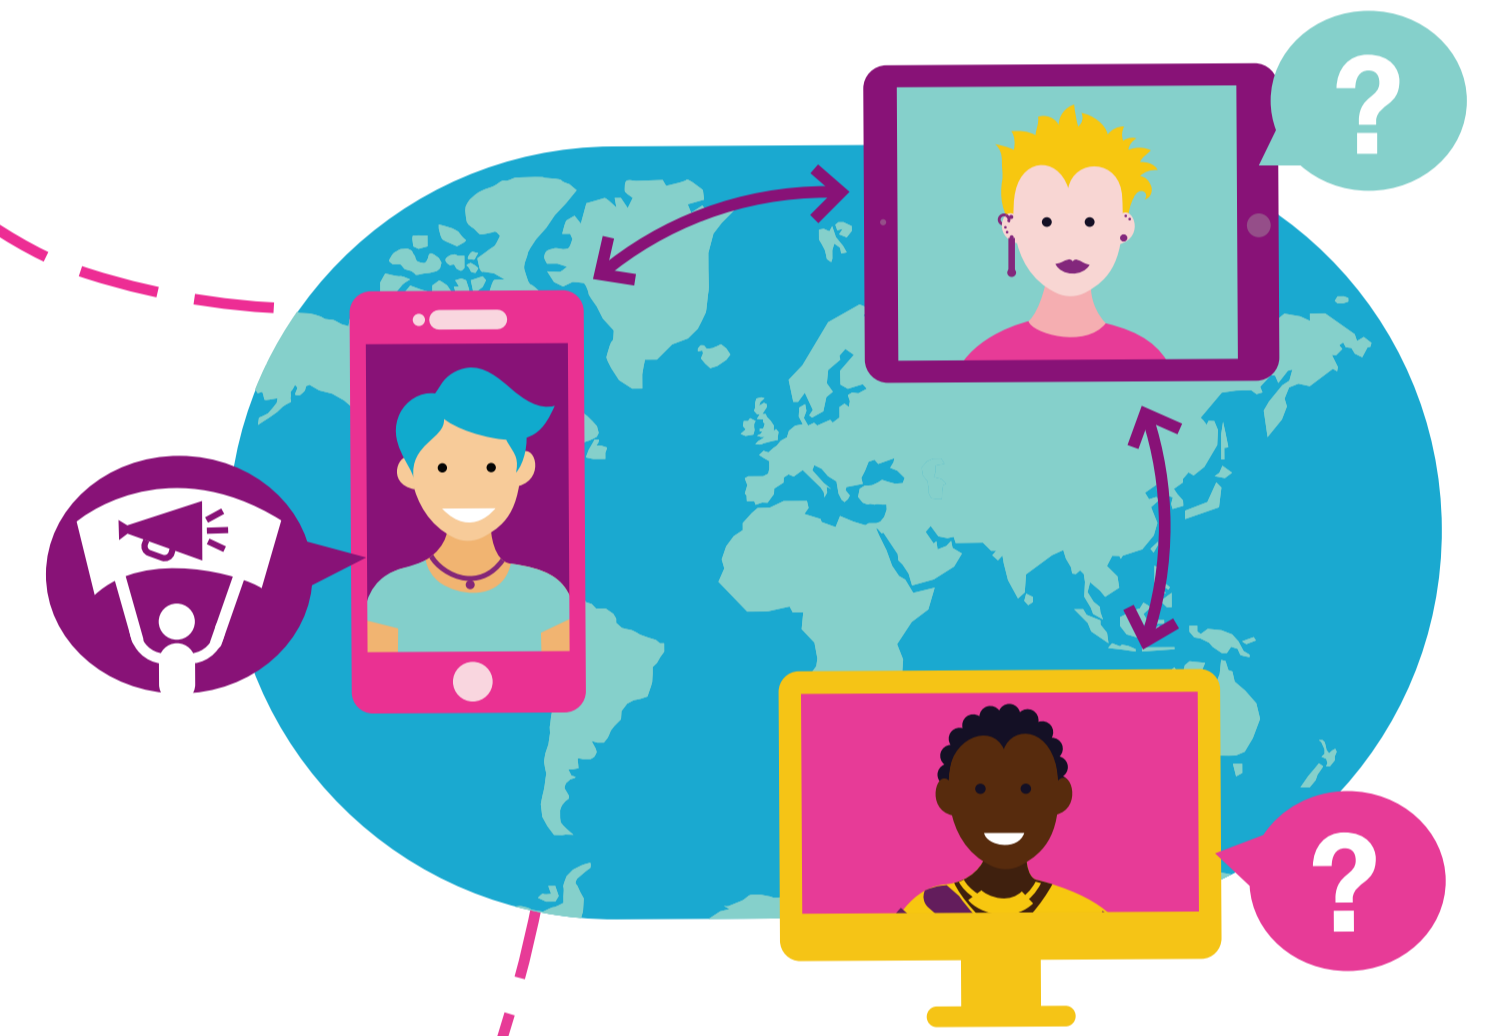

Mama Cash reviews your application and decides whether your application moves to the next step.

Mama Cash asks you more questions about your group and the work you do, and decides whether your application moves to the next step.

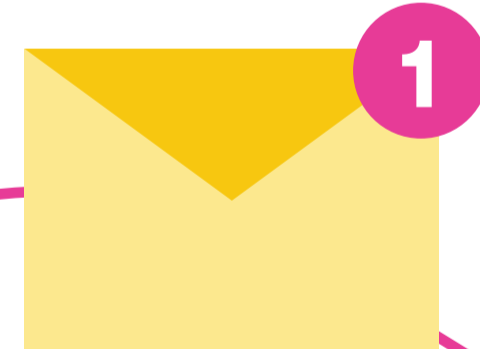

Mama Cash decides to make a grant to your group and transfers the grant.

Mama Cash plans your grant with you and asks our advisors to share feedback about your group to decide whether your application moves to the next step.

Throughout the grant period Mama Cash remains in touch with you to provide support.

After 6 months we have a conversation together about how your group feels your work is going.

After 12 months we invite you to evaluate the past year including Mama Cash's support to you.

Mama Cash reviews the previous grant period and may invite your group to renew your grant.
